

Dr Giovanni Guaraldi MD

Dr Giovanni Guaraldi is a Assistant Professor of Infectious disease at University of Modena and Reggio Emilia (Italy).

He is Modena university Rector Delegate for Cooperation and Development.

Since the year 2000 he lead a liver and kidney transplant program for people with HIV infection at the multivisceral transplant centre at Policlinico of Modena.

Since 2002 he runs a Metabolic Clinic for HIV infection. This tertiary level referral center offer a multidisciplinary team consultant service consisting of infectious disease physicians, nutritionists, personal trainers for physical activities, psychologists, cardiologist, nephrologists, endocrinologists and plastic surgeons for diagnosis and treatment of Non infectious Co-Morbidities. More than 4500 people are in charge of the Metabolic Clinic.

He is a panel member of the European AIDS Clinical Society (EACS) guidelines on prevention and management of HIV associated co-morbidities .

He has published widely on clinical aspects of HIV treatment and care.

Modena, 18 February 2015

Giovanni Guaraldi

