

Prof. Valentina Lanteri is an Associate Professor at the University of Modena e Reggio Emilia. She holds a Graduation Degree in Dentistry in 2002 and a Specialization in Orthodontics in 2005, both with honors, at the University of Pavia, as well as a PhD in Oral Sciences from the University of Milan (2017). She has also earned a Master in Pediatric Dentistry at the University of Florence in 2008, a Master in Pediatric Dentistry and Interceptive Orthodontics at the University of Pisa in 2009. In 2021 she got also the Specialization in Pediatric Dentistry with honors, from the University of Milan. In the academic field she was Teaching Assistant of Malocclusions and TMJ Dysfunctions of the University of Magna Graecia, Adjunct Professor of Oral Hygiene integrated to the Oral Sciences at the Degree Course in Dental Hygiene at the University of Pavia and later Researcher at the University of Milan. She is an active member of the Italian Society of Orthodontics (SIDO). She has given numerous courses and conference presentations and is the author or co-author of several scientific publications on orthodontics.